REPLY TO OFFICE ACTION

In reply to the Examiner's Office Action of February 07, 2008, the following remarks are submitted.

In the Office Action, the Examiner rejected claims 1-28 under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Publication No. 2003/0135220 to Cauthen ("Cauthen") in view of U.S. Patent No. 5,846,249 to Thompson ("Thompson"). In doing so, the Examiner Indicates that Cauthen discloses "the claimed invention except for more specifically an axis that passes through at least a portion of the pathway, allowing the two portions to articulate and distract vertebrae," but that "Thompson discloses this feature, having two curved halves articulate about an axis that passes through at least a portion of the passageway (see joints via 123)." According to the Examiner, "[i]t would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to construct the device of Cauthen having at least the axis that passes through at least a portion of the pathway in view of Thompson to better use the device to distract the vertebrae." However, contrary to the Examiner's contentions, Applicant submits that the rejection of independent claim 1 under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) based on a combination of Cauthen and Thompson cannot be maintained.

In KSR International Co. v. Teleflex Inc. et al., the Supreme Court reaffirmed the framework for governing obviousness under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as set forth in Graham et al. v. John Deere Co. of Kansas City et al., 383 U.S. 1, 148 U.S.P.Q. 459 (1966).
